Programme outline

In recent years interest in the relationship between international business and (especially international) politics has increased. This new programme sets out to explore concepts, approaches and methods from a truly inter-disciplinary perspective and offers a rich and stimulating basis for postgraduate study. The degree offers a framework for exploring the changing relationship between states and markets, international institutions of global political-economic governance, transnational companies, work, geo-politics, industrialization and development.

In particular the programme will help students to develop advanced and critical understandings of the politics of international business from various intellectual perspectives, from neo-liberal and mainstream business studies approaches, through to more critical approaches which engage with questions of power and resistance. In addition, it aims to provide an advanced theoretical grounding in the core aspects, history and politics of business and its growing internationalisation, as well as to equip students with the skills to conduct rigorous empirical analysis and enquiry.

Aims of the programme

1. To develop advanced and critical understandings of the politics of international business from various intellectual perspectives, from neo-liberal and mainstream business studies approaches, through to more critical approaches which engage with questions of power, sustainability, and resistance.

2. to provide an advanced theoretical grounding in the core aspects, history and politics of business and its growing internationalisation.

3. to equip students with the skills to conduct empirical analysis and enquiry.

What will you be expected to achieve?

On successful completion of the course, students should be able to:

Academic Content:

A 1	Understand the relationships between politics and international business, and to be able to theorise and evaluate these in a rigorous manner.
A 2	Situate the histories of the relationship between the state, business and the growing internationalisation of both of these at an advanced level.
A 3	Understand various interpretations of capitalism at an advanced level, in depth contemporary manifestations and examples of the politics of international business, with particular attention to state-market relations and North-South questions, and the geo-political implications of these issues.

Disciplinary Skills - able to:

B 1	Develop an advanced ability to work with a range of theoretical frameworks.
B 2	Enable students to undertake rigorous, sophisticated and advanced empirical analysis and research.
B 3	Develop the ability to communicate at an advanced level, and across disciplines in a rigorous, effective and critical way.

Attributes:

C 1	Undertake advanced critical reading, oral and written communication.
C 2	Initiate and lead group discussions in a sophisticated and rigorous manner.
C 3

How will you learn?

The programme will be delivered through a combination of lectures, seminars, and individual research supervision

How will you be assessed?

Assessment will be by essays, presentations and a dissertation.

How is the programme structured?

Please specify the structure of the programme diets for all variants of the programme (e.g. full-time, part-time - if applicable). The description should be sufficiently detailed to fully define the structure of the diet.

How will the quality of the programme be managed and enhanced? How do we listen to and act on your feedback?

The programme is monitored through the Student Voice Committee (SVC), with student representatives, chaired by the Academic Student Experience Lead, and the Education Committee (EC) chaired by the Director of Education (DoE). Issues arising from student evaluations are fed into the Education Committee. External examiners oversee assessment and marking procedures; this is handled by the Chair of Exams. The programme is evaluated through the Programme Review process.

The Student Voice Committee provides a formal means of communication and discussion between schools/institutes and its students. The committee consists of student representatives from each year in the school/institute together with appropriate representation from staff within the school/institute. It is designed to respond to the needs of students, as well as act as a forum for discussing programme and module developments. Student Voice Committee meets regularly throughout the year.

Each school/institute operates an Education Committee, or equivalent, which advises the School/Institute Director of Education on all matters relating to the delivery of taught programmes at school level including monitoring the application of relevant QM policies and reviewing all proposals for module and programme approval and amendment before submission to Taught Programmes Board. Student views are incorporated in the committee's work in a number of ways, such as through student membership and consideration of student surveys.

All schools/institutes operate Programme Review of their taught undergraduate and postgraduate provision. Programme Review is a continuous process of reflection and action planning which is owned by those responsible for programme delivery. Students' views are considered via the Postgraduate Taught Experience Survey (PTES) and module experience surveys.

What academic support is available?

Students take part in a School wide induction programme which will acquaint students with their programme and resources available to them. They will have a designated advisor as well as a designated dissertation supervisor, both of whom will meet with the students on a regular basis. During induction advice is provided on module choice and module convenors are available at designated times each week to see students to discuss academic issues relating to their modules. The School has a Senior Tutor for masters students who will also be available to see students.

Students are also kept informed about support and help available either within the school, or support workshops organised by Advice and Counselling at QM or the Academic Skills Unit.

Part-time students will undertake the same induction programme as full-time students at the beginning of their studies, and wherever possible we will ensure that their advisor is the same for both years of their study, to ensure continuity of support.

Programme-specific rules and facts

How inclusive is the programme for all students, including those with disabilities?

Queen Mary has a central Disability and Dyslexia Service (DDS) that offers support for all students with disabilities., specific learning difficulties and mental health issues. The DDS supports all Queen Mary students: full-time, part-time, undergraduate, postgraduate, UK and international at all campuses and all sites.
