Programme outline

The BA in Politics with Business Management examines a range of political and commercial phenomena at local, national, regional and international levels. Students develop a firm understanding of government, public policy and governance; management theory and practice; political theories, concepts and ideas; political institutions and behaviour; human resources, marketing and communications; economics and strategy; and different approaches to political research and analysis. Students can choose to specialise through thematic pathways covering areas such as political activism, comparative politics, political economy, political theory or political research; by exploring phenomena such as globalisation, war and security, development, race and racism, or feminism and gender; or by studying the politics of specific states and regions, such as Africa, the EU, Latin America, the Middle East, Russia, South Asia, the United Kingdom and the United States.

Aims of the programme

The programme aims to:

- Provide students with core knowledge about key issues in contemporary Politics, Business and Management;
- Provide students with the opportunity to specialise in particular sub-fields of Politics (e.g. political theory, ideas and ideologies, government and institutions, public policy, area studies, comparative politics and international relations)

Programme Title: BA Politics with Business Management

- Provide students with the opportunity to specialise in the politics of particular states and regions (e.g. Africa, Europe, Latin America, the Middle East, South Asia, South East Asia, the United States and United Kingdom)
- Introduce students to, and encourage them to employ, a range of concepts, theories and methodological approaches for explaining and understanding politics and business management.
- Enable students to develop independent critical thinking and judgement and to undertake independent research tasks.
- Develop a range of skills necessary to the effective communication of ideas and arguments.
- Equip students with a range of skills and attributes that will support them in future activities as citizens and professionals.
- Provide a basis for further study in Politics, Business Management or related disciplines.

What will you be expected to achieve?

Students who successfully complete the programme will achieve the following learning outcomes:

- Detailed knowledge of local, national, regional and international political and business and management issues;
- Detailed understanding of key principles, concepts, theories and research methods in Politics and Business Management;
- The ability to apply these frameworks to understand contemporary political, business and management phenomena;
- The ability to think critically and independently, to reason, to evaluate and deploy evidence, to draw appropriate conclusions, and to make persuasive arguments, in writing and orally.
- The ability to do research independently and as part of a team.

Please note that the following information is only applicable to students who commenced their Level 4 studies in 2017/18, or 2018/19

How will you learn?

The programme is taught in accordance with SPIR's Education Strategy and statement of educational principles, which support excellent, inclusive and innovative teaching practice aimed at fostering independent learning and critical thinking in our students. Our strategy is informed by QMUL's 2030 strategy.

Teaching takes a number of forms:

- lectures
- seminars
- workshops
- individual supervision of projects and dissertations
- individual feedback on written work.

Learning is supported by:

- Coherently designed and effectively delivered modules
- Detailed module handbooks, providing learning outcomes and guided reading for each module
- The provision of key materials in libraries or through electronic resources
- Appropriate assessment exercises within each module
- Use of electronic teaching materials including Powerpoint, QMPlus and online reading lists

- Encouraging active participation by students in seminar discussions
- Research methods training

How will you be assessed?

Assessment is varied and takes a number of forms within the programme. The nature of the assessment is closely connected to the desired learning outcomes and the mode of teaching within each module. Forms of assessment include: written coursework; examinations; presentations; and the final-year dissertation.

How is the programme structured?

Please specify the structure of the programme diets for all variants of the programme (e.g. full-time, part-time - if applicable). The description should be sufficiently detailed to fully define the structure of the diet.

How will the quality of the programme be managed and enhanced? How do we listen to and act on your feedback?

The programme is monitored through the Student Voice Committee (SVC), with student representatives, chaired by the Academic Student Experience Lead, and the Education Committee (EC) chaired by the Director of Education (DoE). Issues arising from student evaluations (both mid-year and end of module) are fed into the Education Committee. External examiners oversee assessment and marking procedures; this is handled by the Chair of Exams. The programme is evaluated through the Programme

Review process.

The Student Voice Committee provides a formal means of communication and discussion between schools/institutes and its students. The committee consists of student representatives from each year in the school/institute together with appropriate representation from staff within the school/institute. It is designed to respond to the needs of students, as well as act as a forum for discussing programme and module developments. Student Voice Committee meets regularly throughout the year.

Each school/institute operates an Education Committee, or equivalent, which advises the School/Institute Director of Education on all matters relating to the delivery of taught programmes at school level including monitoring the application of relevant QM policies and reviewing all proposals for module and programme approval and amendment before submission to Taught Programmes Board. Student views are incorporated in the committee's work in a number of ways, such as through student membership and consideration of student surveys.

All schools/institutes operate Programme Review of their taught undergraduate and postgraduate provision. Programme Review is a continuous process of reflection and action planning which is owned by those responsible for programme delivery; the main document of reference for this process is the National Student Survey Action Plan, which is the summary of the school/institute's work throughout the year to monitor academic standards and to improve the student experience. Students' views are considered in this process through analysis of the NSS and module evaluations.

What academic support is available?

The School runs induction and welcome back meetings at the start of each semester, to update students on School/QM policies and advise them on their studies.

Each student is assigned a dedicated Advisor throughout their years of study to assist them in choosing their modules and advising them on their studies. The School has a dedicated Senior Tutor to deal with Extenuating Circumstances, the Senior Tutor is assisted by the Student Support Manager and Student Support Officer.

To assist with their final year project students are assigned a supervisor whose research matches the topic/subject they wish to focus on.

How inclusive is the programme for all students, including those with disabilities?

Queen Mary has a central Disability and Dyslexia Service (DDS) that offers support for all students with disabilities, specific learning difficulties and mental health issues. The DDS supports all Queen Mary students: full-time, part-time, undergraduate, postgraduate, UK and international at all campuses and all sites.

Students can access advice, guidance and support in the following areas:

- Finding out if you have a specific learning difference like dyslexia
- Applying for funding through the Disabled Students' Allowance (DSA)
- Arranging DSA assessments of need
- Examination access arrangements
- Accessing loaned equipment (e.g. digital recorders)
- Specialist one-to-one study skills tuition
- Ensuring access to course materials in alternative formats (e.g. Braille)
- Providing educational support workers (e.g. note-takers, readers, library assistants)
- Mentoring support for students with mental health issues and conditions on the autistic spectrum.

Links with employers, placement opportunities and transferable skills

The subject specific skills developed by this programme prepare students for a wide range of employment opportunities, including careers in the civil service, journalism, political research, social work, local and national government and third-sector organisations. The transferable skills developed by this programme also help to prepare students for work in diverse other sectors, including finance and banking, management training, PR and advertising. The programme also builds academic skills essential for further study, including MSc and research degrees, and professional qualifications in law and teaching. Additionally in year 3 students have access to internship modules (in the Parliament and/or civil society organisations) offered alongside preparatory coursework that can help establish career pathways while still in the final year of their degree.
